

K love is the kind of station that I can listen to when I am having a bad day, and the music on there soothes me and lets me know that everything will be alright. I K-Love were displaced, I dont think that people would have a station that they could turn to for comfort.